From the moment a child is conceived the love that continually grows has no meter on its recognition. The moment a child is introduced to the world that love spreads so quickly that before you know it an entire family, and friends feel like that life is a part of their own. But to parents and grandparents our struggle with the pain and the loss is in no comparison to their own. May you always smell her smell, see her soft smile, remember the sounds of recognition of those who she recognized , and remember that her whole world was filled with the love you each and others paid to her. Children are a gift , life itself is a gift she is a gift . As we all lay her body to rest feel her soul as it fills the room , the town , and eventually the country of all she accomplished in 3 months here on Earth.As we all mourn , let the compassion found in others help hold you strong and hold onto the image of this sweet little beautiful blue eyed angel growing in a paradise of painlessness, bullying , angry , revenge , despair , poverty , drugs , and evil. Navaylah lives in our hearts , but grows in paradise until the day comes when each reunites as their time comes . Her loss will leave a void , but never let that void overtake the love of the life she offered simply by her presence in ours. I lit a candle the day I found out , and though it burns lower , it has not gone out . She lives in our hearts and through her offerings her family chose to pay forward . God embraced an angel in heaven on April 9th 2013 . And she was welcomed from our family preparing our paradise for each of us only when it is our call to "welcome home" Welcome home baby girl , you are greatly missed. ~ Ange
